Toledo Blade: Most of northwest Ohio, including much of Lucas County, Perrysburg, Bedford Township, and Rossford among others, were under a do not drink or boil advisory after the Collins Park water-treatment plant in East Toledo produced two toxin sample readings. Chemists testing water at Collins Park plant found two sample readings for microcystin that exceeded the recommended "do not drink" standard of one microgram per liter standard.

...