

... a kidney from a close relative would offer the best chance of success for the 18-year-old who was desperately ill after suffering chronic renal failure. ...

read more