

A farmer from southwestern China who, two years ago, became the second person in the world to have a face transplant has died after forsaking immune-system ...

read more